

Seven years ago, we started a journey to what later became our biggest announcement yet - but first, let's take a walk down memory lane.

In 2011, we plunged into the local metal scene within Gothenburg, Sweden. Our agreed upon target was to write and play music that felt real and authentic to us, and our hard work eventually paid off.

We gained some momentum playing shows in, and around the city. However, as time progressed and things were seemingly going great, we hit upon obstacles that ultimately forced us to make some hard decisions – and almost put an end to this band.

In 2015, we had hit the lowest point for the band. Being in the middle of the recording process, we parted ways with several members of the band. The ambition and the drive to push through was still there, although the task proved to be harder than expected. Needless to say, our journey came to a halt.

Even though the desire to fulfill the mission – that we initially set out to accomplish – was still pushing and pulling on us, we had no clear target in sight. A goal to which we could aim our creative energies.

Was all work in vain or was there a way we could rekindle that original spark and finish the album with a better and stronger lineup than before?

“ A W A K E N E D , W I T H A C L E A R M I N D
A N D W I T H C L A R I T Y . . . ”

After some time and hard efforts, we managed to pull together a complete lineup again. New blood, fresh minds and a mutual goal anchored in friendship and trust.

We created a new concept for the album, rewrote the lyrics, and as the final shot, we picked up the flag and advanced toward yet another checkpoint.

Thus, began the second coming of Limbo. We gathered our energies and concentrated our forces, so we could finish what we started. What we began working with in the early days of this band is now finally completed.

After several years, we managed to find our sound, a workflow, and a lineup with a foundation stronger than ever.

So, without further ado, we give you - our debut album.
